PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Brothers,

It pleases me to virtually no end to share with you the great news from our 147th Congressional meeting in Atlanta. The Psi chapter has won one of the most prestigious awards a chapter can receive in being awarded the Thomas A. Gehring Award for Most Improved Chapter. Our current chapter has come such a long way since the fall of 2010. Our 49 members currently have the #1 GPA of all fraternities at Lehigh, and have the model for best practices on year round rush and new member education. The 2011-2012 accreditation report is out and our chapter rated one of the highest with the Silver Medal. You can see the full report below.

Other awards that need to be mentioned: Danny Grezsik our Chapter Advisor won the Chi Phi Chapter Advisor of the Year award. Our neighboring Brothers from the Rho Chapter won the Chi Phi Alumni Association of the Year. The Rho Alumni Association has been working tirelessly on fighting the college in court to obtain the right to live in the house that they own. They are setting an example that we have to stand up for our rights and will not be steamrolled by any administration who thinks that we will not fight back for what is rightfully ours. The Psi chapter's help to Rho has been a crucial part to their repopulation process. Our chapters have grown close together going through the whole process.

Brother Alan Abels '74 used his time wisely while not in congressional meetings to go through the National archives to obtain more history of what they had on file for the Psi Chapter. I am very eager to see the finished product of his compilation of Psi history.

Some of you know that since 1999 the Psi chapter has been performing a Swords Ceremony that pays homage to the Southern Order. This is a private ceremony meant for only active brothers and new members. I was delighted to bring the Swords Ceremony in front of Congress this year, and happy to report the ceremony was received very well by the Heritage and Traditions Committee. A resolution was passed at Congress to have the ceremony put in the "Members Only" section of the Chi Phi National website for chapters to use in their new member education process. Next year a final draft will be submitted for approval to become an official ceremony for chapters to use.

I hope everyone is excited for the new Briarfield website. If there is anything that you would like to see added, or any suggestions to make it more useful, please send us a message with your thoughts. It would also be great if you could dig up a few old Chi Phi pictures that we could post on the site. We think that compiling old photos and memories will be a real treat for all to see.

In the bonds,
Jay T. Crosby '00
Briarfield President

NEWS

Psi receives Silver accreditation rating from Lehigh

It should have been Gold. We wuz robbed! But getting a Silver was no mean feat. The actives are to be congratulated for a job well done. See the full report below.

Chi Phi Giving to Lehigh

Some amazing numbers from Jay:

Chi Phi's over all the years have given $21,617,058 to Lehigh University.

This year Chi Phi's gave $679,402 to Lehigh, and earmarked $16,255 directly to the chapter.

Psi receives the Thomas A. Gehring Award

The Psi Chapter won the Thomas A. Gehring Award for Most Improved Chapter. This is one of the most prestigious awards that can be won at Congress.

Matt Schellers receives special award from Chi Phi National

Rho Chapter Trying Hard

Letter from the Rho alumni president:

Dear Psi Brothers:

On the cold winter evening of January 30, 1874 at the historic United States Hotel in Easton, a contingent of nine Chi Phi Brothers from the Psi Chapter at Lehigh, and others from Franklin & Marshall, Muhlenberg, and Dickenson, presided over the initiation of the first Brothers of the Rho Chapter at Lafayette known as the "Twelve Apostles of Rho."

On Thursday evening, April 26, 2012, the alumni and student Brothers of the Rho Chapter honored their Brothers of the Psi Chapter for, once again, providing most valuable assistance to Rho. In attendance were over 60 Brothers and guests at a formal reception and dinner at the Silver Creek Country Club in Hellertown, PA.

The Psi undergraduate and alumni Brothers have assisted Rho with two new member education and initiation ceremonies helping to build the new Brotherhood at Rho. Psi has generously provided the use of their Chapter House and the invaluable time and dedication of their undergraduate and alumni Brothers. This is an excellent example of collaboration between the historically rival institutions, with many plans already made to continue the relationship.

Our Chi Brothers, Hail.....

Jerry Blakeslee Rho Class of 70'

Chuck Weidner '61 Honors Brother Bob Kugler '33

Chuck Weidner has made a gift to Lehigh University in memory of Bob Kugler, his father-in-law.

Bob graduated from high school in 1929 at the end of the Roaring Twenties and entered Lehigh at the start of the Great Depression which lasted over 10 years. Like many of his classmates, he stopped playing in the line of the football team and got jobs to get the money to graduate with a degree in Civil Engineering in 1933. During the Depression, he started and raised a family, then moved to Cranbury in 1947 where he was a Scoutmaster for over two decades, President of the local Lions Club and a District Governor, was on the school board and mayor of the town. During his son, Bill Kugler's time at Lehigh he was active on the Briarfield Association. When he retired to a remote area of Florida, he was active in the church and a volunteer fireman.

The "1961 plus or minus three" gang gathers at Brother Adam's place

A totally outstanding outing was held by the group of brothers ranging in classes from 1958 to 1964 at the home of Parry and Brother Bruce Adam in Flemington NJ. Here are a bunch of pictures from the gathering.

And our hosts! Snap, snap, snap!

CHI PHI HISTORY

From Alan Abels, our erstwhile historian, come this interesting tidbit:

Eustace B. Rodgers

Just recently, my wife, Ann, and I took her parents to see Washington, DC. Born in Italy and arriving in the United States some fifty years ago, this couple had never been to our nation's capitol. Being nearly seventy-eight years old, my father-in-law had a short list of things he wanted to see in Washington; the Air and Space Museum, the World War II memorial and Kennedy's grave in Arlington.

We were only going for two days, so I had to plan things right. The weather was going to turn nasty in the afternoon of our first day, so I decided that we would hit Arlington first. After viewing JFK's grave, then Bobby's and then Teddy's, it was a trek across the cemetery for the Tomb of the Unknown. As we walked along the roadway admiring the cherry trees and the pink and white dogwoods, I realized that we were passing a section of the cemetery with high ranking naval personnel.

I thought to myself, "Could our old fraternity brother, old 'what's his name' be buried here?" I had taken a couple of months off from working on the Psi Chapter history and just could not bring his name to the forefront of my memory, but I knew he was an Admiral and a paymaster for the navy for several years. I figured if I saw his tomb stone, I would know it. Low and behold, I was right, not 15 feet from the road side and on a bluff overlooking much of the eastern side of the side Arlington stood this:

Eustace Barron Rodgers became the 15th member of Psi on November 2, 1872. He was born in San Francisco on May 29, 1855. In the fall of 1874 he left Lehigh and entered the University of California. By chance, on a cable car, he met one of the two Ostrander brothers, who had left Cornell to attend UC Berkeley also. This meeting led to the three starting Lambda chapter.

In March of 1879, Rodgers entered the US Navy. During the 1880s, Eustace spend much of his shore leave in Bethlehem working with and counseling the active chapter. He served as Grand Zeta from 1879 to 1881 In 1906 he was awarded the rank of Rear Admiral and assigned Chief, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts. He retired from Active Duty in 1910.

ACCREDITATION REPORT

CHI PHI

Accreditation Report

2011-2012

Intellectual Development

□ Chi Phi ranked seventh among the Interfraternity Council Chapters in the fall 2011 semester with a 2.964 GPA, a decrease of .053 from the spring 2011 semester. The 2.964 GPA placed the chapter above the All Fraternity average, but below the All Men, All Greek and All Undergraduate averages.

□ Chi Phi ranked first among the Interfraternity Council Chapters in the spring 2012 semester with a 3.23958 GPA, an increase of .27541 from the fall 2011 semester. The 3.23958 GPA placed the chapter above the All Men, All Fraternity, All Greek and All Undergraduate averages.

□ Chi Phi's fall 2011 new member class GPA was 3.1267 ranking second out of six Interfraternity Council Chapters. The new member class GPA was 3.447 for spring 2012 ranking first out of 18 Interfraternity Council Chapters.

□ Chi Phi had 10.8% of the chapter on the Dean's List in the fall 2011 semester and 31.3% on the Dean's List in the spring 2012 semester.

□ The chapter has set a 3.0 minimum grade point average to join the fraternity. The committee commends Chi Phi for this solid GPA standard. The chapter should continue to be upfront with this expectation to potential new members.

□ Chi Phi members who fall below the chapter's 2.7 good standing grade point average, below a 2.5, or below a 2.3 are all expected to meet different levels of expectations to improve academic performance and awareness under the guidance of the Academic Chairman. The committee believes that the fraternity has good safety net tiers in place to assist members whom are struggling academically and considers these expectations and tiers a best practice.

□ Chi Phi's Briarfield Alumni Association continues to sponsor a dinner for members who have earned a 3.0 semester grade point average or higher. Briarfield now also sponsors a monetary incentive for the most improved and highest individual grade point averages. Knowing the chapter's academic ambitions, the committee recommends that Chi Phi raise the metrics for these incentives.

□ The chapter holds two workshops with the Center for Academic Success each semester. The committee recommends that Chi Phi implement a method to assess member interest as it relates to the topics of these seminars.

□ The committee commends the chapter for following through on last year's Accreditation recommendation to work with the Center for Academic Success to hold a mentor training workshop for their academic team captains. The committee would like to see the chapter evaluate the structure and purpose of this initiative to ensure that it is fun and effective.

□ The chapter should consider incorporating technology into their academic initiatives. The committee recommends that Chi Phi utilize Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Omicron Pi's partnership as a resource.

□ The chapter continues to build their relationship with long standing faculty advisor Professor Sinclair. Professor Sinclair is involved in the fraternity's new member orientation weekend and frequently visits the chapter facility. The committee encourages Chi Phi to continue to re-visit goals and expectations of one another and look into other partnerships that can occur due to this relationship.

□ The chapter has implemented a Thursday night faculty member dinner and discussion initiative. The committee would like to see this idea grow and recommends that Chi Phi use this forum to provide opportunities for education on topics of member interest and pluralism. Providing these opportunities is an Accreditation recommendation from last year that was not addressed.

□ Chi Phi has continued to improve their academic performance and standing among the Interfraternity Council Chapters over the last two years. The committee commends the chapter for their numerous intentional efforts and attention, including emphasizing the Academic Chairman role within the fraternity. The committee encourages the fraternity to continue to evaluate their standards and expectations.

Chapter Development Questions for 2012-13:

□ How does Chi Phi connect members to intellectual growth opportunities?

In the area of Intellectual Development, the committee rated Chi Phi to be a Gold Chapter.

Leadership Development

□ Chi Phi has made intentional marketing, incentive, and oversight changes to their seven semester themed continuing membership education plan in attempt to effectively implement it. The committee recommends that the chapter discuss continuing membership education and this Accreditation focus area during their upcoming fall retreat. Chi Phi should utilize the Office of Student Leadership Development and Fraternity and Sorority Affairs as resources.

□ The chapter has removed their big brother mentor program from their new member orientation weekend. It is now a separate two week program that includes a ceremony, meetings over dinner and time to discuss involvement opportunities within the chapter and campus community. The committee commends Chi Phi for evaluating their new member education program while staying committed to the three day plan.

□ Chi Phi's former chapter president, Casey Atkins, was slated onto the 2012-2013 Interfraternity Council Executive Board as the Vice President of Recruitment. This is the first Chi Phi representative on the board since the chapter's reorganization.

□ Chi Phi members continue to hold formal leadership positions across campus, particularly those associated with the Office of Residence Life. The committee encourages the chapter to utilize this involvement for potential programming partnerships and to help members understand University policies.

□ The committee highly encourages the chapter to uphold their recruitment strategy and approach to grow the organization with the most and best "True Gentleman."

□ The chapter president attended Intern/national Headquarter's sponsored Alphas Academy in Atlanta prior to the start of classes in the spring semester. During the spring break period, the chapter president and seven additional members attended the Regional Leadership Alliance in New York to discuss Ritual and effective risk-management strategies. The committee commends the chapter for supporting Chi Phi Headquarter initiatives.

□ The chapter will be sending representatives to their Inter/national Headquarter's sponsored College of Excellence Program, a Chi Phi only Undergraduate Interfraternity Institute (UIFI) Session and their Convention this summer. The committee would like to see participants creatively bring back these experiences to campus.

□ The committee believes that there is a good amount of brotherhood activities and conversations that occur within the chapter.

□ Chi Phi held a "Great Greek Debate" in April with the Director of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs Tim Wilkinson and Assistant Dean of Students Chris Mulvihill on topics such as conduct sanctions, social policy and Accreditation. The committee commends the chapter for handling this situation well and having a unique discussion.

□ The committee believes that Chi Phi has a strong transition approach in place, as the chapter held elections for select fall 2012 positions and the 2013-2014 executive board at the end of the spring semester to allow time for shadowing.

Chapter Development Questions for 2012-13:

□ How is leadership understood and developed within the context of Chi Phi? How does the chapter assess individual growth?

In the area of Leadership Development, the committee rated Chi Phi to be a Silver Chapter.

Community Development

□ The chapter held a barbecue with parents of members during Parent's Weekend. The committee recommends that Chi Phi continue to look for ways to engage parents throughout the academic year.

□ Chi Phi sold fresh made pancakes outside their facility in September to support wounded troops and a fellow chapter member whom is a veteran. The fraternity was able to raise over $500 in two hours. The committee commends the chapter for the thought that went into this event.

□ Chi Phi has developed a relationship with Habitat for Humanity during the year, as ten members worked on a home in September and additional men provided support at a Wine Gala event in November. In the spring semester, Chi Phi partnered with Theta Xi to raise $4,500 to renovate Habitat for Humanity's office and to provide needed labor during the week of April 14th. The committee commends the chapter for their dedication and considers this continued commitment a best practice.

□ Chi Phi co-sponsored a Miller Keystone Blood Drive with the Community Service Office in February by helping out with marketing initiatives. Over the course of two days there were 193 donors, including many chapter members.

□ Chi Phi intends to continue their relationship with the local Boys and Girls Club during the 2012-2013 academic year, as this is their Inter/national Headquarters adopted service partnership. The chapter sent volunteers to the Boys and Girls Club four days a week since returning from spring break.

□ Chi Phi “adopted” a two mile stretch of highway by the I-78/Route 412 interchange near Hellertown. The brotherhood participated in their first clean-up of their area in March.

□ The chapter provided helping hands to New Bethany Ministries in the spring by cleaning areas of the facility. The committee would like to see Chi Phi continue to help this community agency, but to also educate the campus community on the hunger and homelessness problem in South Bethlehem.

□ Chapter members participated in Relay for Life for personal reasons, but collectively they have raised over $125 towards cancer research.

□ Chi Phi actively participated in other fraternity and sorority philanthropy events, including Delta Gamma's Anchor Slam event and Alpha Phi co-sponsored “Keep the Goose Open Late” event.

□ Chapter members also actively participate in community service opportunities individually, including working with the “Reading Rocks” Program at Donegan Elementary School and the Allentown Humane Society. One member provided approximately 140 hours of tutoring at Broughal Middle School over the year.

□ The committee believes that the chapter can articulate the difference between community service and philanthropy and that they provide an appropriate balance between the two.

□ Chi Phi should continue to submit their community service and philanthropy reporting forms through the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs website.

□ Chi Phi's undergraduate leadership and the Briarfield Alumni Association did a good job planning and executing their 140th Anniversary celebration this past February at Hotel Bethlehem. University constituents, members of the Inter/national Headquarters staff, and the Fraternity President were among those in attendance.

□ Briarfield sent an in-depth spring newsletter to alumni and Chi Phi constituents detailing past and future events, giving opportunities and recognizing individuals for their dedication and support.

□ Chi Phi held an alumni phone-a-thon outreach event in the spring with the assistance of the Alumni Association Office to re-engage affiliated members across the years.

□ The chapter had an incident involving hard alcohol and a physical altercation at the chapter facility in October. The committee commends the chapter for being proactive and taking action on the individuals involved, as no charges were brought by the Office of Student Conduct and Civic Engagement due to these efforts.

□ Chi Phi approached the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs and the Office of Student Conduct and

Civic Engagement about the possibility of reintroducing alcohol into the chapter facility prior to the December 31st, 2012 Committee on Discipline sanction end date. The fraternity came up with intended outcomes, a rationale and a strategy for gradually reintroducing alcohol during the fall 2012 semester. The committee commends Chi Phi for their method of approach, collaboration and understanding. Assistant Dean Chris Mulvihill will allow the chapter to have alcohol in the chapter facility during the fall 2012 semester at select registered events provided that they hold the discussed educational initiatives.

Chapter Development Questions for 2012-13:

□ How does Chi Phi define a successful partnership with the Community Service Office? How does Chi Phi define a successful community service and philanthropy event?

In the area of Community Development, the committee rated Chi Phi to be a Gold Chapter.

Organizational Development

□ Chi Phi's Field Executive visited campus twice during the academic year. The chapter continues to utilize his assessment and feedback to improve chapter operations. The committee commends the men for continuing to build a positive relationship with their Inter/National Headquarters.

□ The chapter's risk-management and historian positions are now on the executive board. The committee commends the chapter for evaluating their organizational structure and making changes.

□ The committee is glad to see that executive board meetings and chapter meetings occur on different days, as this leads to organization, efficiency and productivity.

□ The chapter is in good financial standing, but the fraternity is assessing their future choice of vendors to handle fraternity finances.

□ The chapter continues to progress since reorganization. As Chi Phi moves forward, the committee recommends that the men have conversations and activities related to Chi Phi Fraternity Rituals. This will help all members understand the difference between Psi chapter traditions and Ritual.

□ The committee recommends that Chi Phi continue to have conversations related to risk-management and the accountability that comes with the reintroduction of alcohol to the chapter facility during the 2012-2013 academic year.

□ The chapter's standards board process continues to evolve, as the fraternity is working on developing consistent sanctions for certain actions. The committee recommends that Chi Phi utilize the Office of Student Conduct and Community Expectations to discuss the actions and sanctions.

□ Chi Phi has started to move forward with a strategic planning process, as the chapter conducted a S.W.O.T. analysis in the fall. The committee would like to see the chapter develop a three to five year plan around the areas of membership, leadership, brotherhood and operations. The committee believes that the fraternity does have a good approach as they continue to grow.

□ The committee recognizes that there is an active alumni mentoring structure in place for every undergraduate leader. The committee would like to see leadership work with their Inter/national Headquarters and Lehigh University constituents to develop a mentoring and coaching workshop for chapter alumni to ensure the long term success of the fraternity. This was a proposed initiative in Chi Phi's "Strategy for the Success of the Psi Chapter" document.

□ Briarfield has developed a strategic plan around undergraduate involvement, integrating recent graduates, mentoring, and outside constituent involvement. The committee commends alumni leadership, as the organization continues to move forward and has shown marked improvement in organization over the last couple of years.

□ The committee believes that Chi Phi did a good job addressing 2010-2011 Accreditation recommendations and chapter development questions.

□ The committee expects the chapter to be able to provide a detailed explanation of their dues structure for active and new members, as well as articulate the reasoning behind their dues for 2012-13, and how this reasoning was explained to active members during the year as well as potential new members during the recruitment and new member education processes.

Chapter Development Questions for 2012-13:

□ Where does Chi Phi see the chapter in three to five years? How are all members involved in the planning process? How has this year contributed to the long term vision of the organization?

In the area of Organizational Development, the committee rated Chi Phi to be a Silver Chapter.

Facilities Management

□ Chi Phi met the University's 90% occupancy requirement by the tenth day of classes this past spring semester utilizing their dynamic recruitment strategy and approach. The fraternity currently has over forty five members. The committee commends the chapter for reaching out to the Office of Residential Services and the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs with questions and concerns.

□ Chi Phi's common damages for the fall 2011 semester were $180.25.

□ The chapter had no life safety violations and one lease violation warning.

□ Chi Phi continued to implement their daily "waits" system and weekly "clean" process. The entire membership participates in the "clean" process prior to chapter meetings.

□ The chapter has been proactive working with the Office of Residential Services on the facility's summer maintenance projects.

□ The chapter has improved their relationship with the Office of Residential Services over the course of the academic year as it relates to appropriately communicating any issues, concerns or needs. The committee commends the chapter for their efforts and would like to see a continued positive planning relationship with Residential Services.

□ The committee hopes that undergraduate membership continues to respect and appreciate the funding invested by alumni to their learning and living environment as alcohol is reintroduced to the chapter facility during the 2012-2013 academic year.

Chapter Development Questions for 2012-13:

□ How does Chi Phi work to ensure that sustainability initiatives are part of the overall facilities management of the chapter?

In the area of Facilities Management, the committee rated Chi Phi to be a Gold Chapter.

Overall Rating

Overall, Chi Phi has been rated a Silver chapter by the 2011-2012 Accreditation Committee.

The chapter continues to grow as an organization, as they have continued to develop their academic plan; continued building relationships with valuable constituents; utilized effective recruitment strategies; strengthened their community service and philanthropy initiatives; and began working on a strategic plan. The committee would like to see the chapter continue to evaluate their expectations, standards and procedures while making intentional decisions.

The Accreditation committee assigns Chi Phi an overall rating of Silver, which is considered a high level of achievement in the Accreditation process, with all the privileges that accompany such a rating.

Chapter Development Questions

□ How does Chi Phi connect members to intellectual growth opportunities?

□ How is leadership understood and developed within the context of Chi Phi? How does the chapter assess individual growth?

□ How does Chi Phi define a successful partnership with the Community Service Office? How does Chi Phi define a successful community service and philanthropy event?

□ Where does Chi Phi see the chapter in three to five years? How are all members involved in the planning process? How has this year contributed to the long term vision of the organization?

□ How does Chi Phi work to ensure that sustainability initiatives are part of the overall facilities management of the chapter?

Best Practices

□ Chi Phi members who fall below the chapter's 2.7 good standing grade point average, below a 2.5, or below a 2.3 are all expected to meet different levels of expectations to improve academic performance and awareness under the guidance of the Academic

Chairman. The committee believes that the fraternity has good safety net tiers in place to assist members whom are struggling academically and considers these expectations and tiers a best practice.

□ The committee continues to consider Chi Phi's new member education weekend a best practice.

□ Chi Phi has developed a relationship with Habitat for Humanity during the year, as ten members worked on a home in September and additional men provided support at a Wine Gala event in November. In the spring semester, Chi Phi partnered with Theta Xi to raise $4,500 to renovate Habitat for Humanity's office and to provide needed labor during the week of April 14th. The committee commends the chapter for their dedication and considers this continued commitment a best practice.

CHAPTER ETERNAL

Harry H. Heist '60 died May 25, 2012. Lynda (Button) Heist lives in Bridgeport. Harry was a management consultant for General Electric Company in Schenectady, NY and Bridgeport for 29 years until his retirement. Harry received his Bachelors and Masters degrees in Industrial Engineering from Lehigh University.

King Ghegan '60 died after a long illness. Kathy Ghegan lives at 2109 Hermitage Road, Wilson, NC 27896 (252) 291-9658 and she would like to stay involved in Chi Phi activities.

A guy walks into a bar sporting two magnificent black eyes.

"Wow!" says the bartender. "Where did you get those two shiners?"

"Well, I was in church, and it was a hot day, and as we all knelt down to pray, I noticed that the dress of the lady in front of me had got stuck in the crack of her cheeks, so I reached over and pulled it out. She turned around and walloped me.

"Bummer," said the barkeep. "But that's only one black eye. How'd you get the other one?"

"As we were praying, it occurred to me that perhaps the reason she was so angry was because she had wanted the dress to be caught in the crack, so I reached over and tucked it back in."

TRIVIA

OLD TRIVIA QUESTION

The last trivia question asked what this was. It looks like a Chakette, but it obviously isn't. The editor received no (as in nada, zero, nil) responses. And the editor has not a clue as to what this is.

NEW TRIVIA QUESTIONS

We have three trivia questions this time.

1. The song starts: "Twas a cold winter's evening, the guests were all leaving, O'Leary was closing the bar." What is the next line?
2. Who is that on the radiator? (see right)

3. What is Ernst Benzien doing? (this is a multiple choice question)
  - a) putting the car on cinder blocks as a prank
  - b) stealing the engine out of Dale Smith's Porche
  - c) praying
